

CESRA summer school on solar radio physics

How to go from Paris to Salbris ?

The meeting point for the solar radio physics school on Sunday evening is the small town of Salbris. A bus service to Nancay will be organised from Monday to Friday.

1) From your arrival airport to the Austerlitz train station

The suburban train “RER B” brings you to central Paris from both the Orly (south of Paris) and Charles de Gaulle (north of Paris) airports. Follow the “Paris by train” signs in the airport (in Orly you have to take the “Orlyval” train to get to the nearest RER B station in Antony). Get off at the “Saint Michel” station and change to RER C for Paris Austerlitz.

If you come to Paris by train, use the Metro system – info at

(make sure that when you enter the train station in the route planner you change the head button from “address” to “station”).
